About Brigham and Women's/Faulkner Hospitals

Brigham and Women's Hospital and Faulkner Hospital merged in 1998, forming Brigham and Women's /Faulkner Hospitals. Since that time, both hospitals have been working together to integrate the programs and services of Brigham and Women's Hospital - one of the country's leading academic medical centers - with Faulkner Hospital, one of the region's finest community teaching hospitals.

Brigham and Women's Foot and Ankle Center at Faulkner Hospital is one example of this exciting partnership and how it benefits all of our patients.

We Accept Most Insurance

The Foot and Ankle Center accepts most forms of insurance and participates in many managed care plans. If your insurance plan requires a referral from a primary care physician, please make sure this has been obtained before your first appointment at the Foot and Ankle Center.
