Calling all Postdoctoral Photographers!

The HMS PDA is holding a photography contest to find photos that will appear on their new website! As the new website has only just launched, it will be begin posting lots of information about the PDA, events and other useful content which will be relevant to the postdoctoral community. See the new website at: <http://web.hms.harvard.edu/pda/> . Seeking images that will convey to viewers the idea that the HMS/HSDM PDA is a social and professional networking association that includes postdocs from many institutions in the Boston area. See program details. Email your submissions to: PDA@HMS.HARVARD.EDU Contact: ksiggers@rics.bwh.harvard.edu

CTSciNET

AAMC has partnered with the American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS), Science Careers, and several other organizations, to launch CTSciNET, the Clinical and Translational Science Network. CTSciNet is a content-and-community Web site with the mission to assist clinicians interested in research, MD-PhD trainees and recipients, PhD-track scientists who want to work closer to the clinic, and anyone considering these career paths in assessing their options and making good career-related decisions. The project is supported by the Borroughs Wellcome Fund. Dr. Kerry O'Banion, Chair-Elect of the MD-PhD Section, is a CTSciNet Advisor.
