OPRC Announces Arrival and Departure Checklists for BWH Postdocs

The OPRC is pleased to announce two new tools for BWH postdocs. The Arrival Checklist and the Departure Checklist were developed by the OPRC's Postdoctoral Advisory Committee, Human Resources and Research Compliance with input from Department Administrators. The checklists are a handy reference tool and a general guide for postdocs who are beginning or completing their BWH fellowships, and for administrators who aim to assist postdocs during these transitions. The checklists are not intended to be comprehensive, but to complement more specific information which may be provided by the appointing department and lab, the Partners International Office, or other parties. Please forward these documents to all others who may find them useful. Questions, comments or suggestions about these documents can be sent to BWHOPRC@partners.org

OPRC Seeks Input on "FRESH Start Guide"

The OPRC has drafted a new, multidimensional resource guide for incoming researchers and their families. The FRESH Start Guide (Family Resources for Ethnicities Searching for Home) will assist researchers and their families with the transition to a new city and environment that may be hundreds, if not, thousands of miles away from home. The FRESH Start Guide features opportunities and resources for families to connect with the home they left behind. Sections include cultural organizations and events, online media, specialty food markets, movie theaters and much more.

What makes Boston feel more like home for you? We are seeking postdocs to review the draft and tell us what you find useful or what you think we should add to make this guide more accurate and helpful. Your feedback and insight would be greatly appreciated. If you are interested in reviewing the draft and contributing to this project, please email BWHOPRC@partners.org
