OPRC NEWSLETTER - AUGUST 13, 2008

News, Events and Resources from the Office for Postdoctoral and Research Careers, Center for Faculty Development & Diversity

NEWS AND GENERAL INFORMATION:

BWH BRI Infectious & Immunologic Diseases Research Center will be offering discounted reagents

The BWH BRI Infectious & Immunologic Diseases Research Center will be making about twenty commonly used antibodies available for distribution to the BWH research community at substantially reduced cost. We need your help in estimating the quantities of antibodies you will use to be sure we produce enough of each reagent. Please feel free to submit additional antibody requests (see last question of survey). Please take the survey by August 15th. All respondents will be entered into a drawing for ten Starbucks gift cards.

Helping to Foster Women's Careers in the Scientific Workforce

NIH Extramural Nexus: July 2008 Edition Article: We know that women are well represented within the general populations of graduate students and postdoctoral scholars in the biomedical sciences, but fewer than 25 percent of the applicants and recipients of NIH research grants are female (see data). Why is it that so few women go on to become members of the faculty at institutions of higher learning?

PROFESSIONAL AND CAREER DEVELOPMENT EVENTS:

The HMS/HSDM Postdoc Association hosts a Family Potluck Picnic and BBQ - 8/23/08

12:30-4:30pm. The event is being held at Harvard's Southborough campus. Bus transportation will be provided.
